Subject: RE: Heads up - Safety, Security and Emergencies Cabinet committee

Hello Karlie,

XDD has approved the following response to DCL's request...

The Office of Protocol has not been made aware officially of any significant concerns by the diplomatic community in the National Capital Region linked to the current ongoing demonstrations in downtown Ottawa. The RCMP Protective Operations Assessment Unit advised that there is no particular concern at this time for the diplomatic community. Some foreign missions have requested that the RCMP conduct security assessments, however, no specific concerns have been identified. Several missions have informally raised issues and inconveniences with the Chief of Protocol that have been affecting their operations related to limited access to buildings, blocked streets, noise impeding their work and the odor of diesel fumes. The Office of Protocol (Diplomatic Security Liaison Unit) remains in contact with the RCMP and will advise of any significant concerns affecting diplomatic missions.

Best regards,

Bill

Hello,

I am happy to reassure you that, as of right now, there is nothing to report. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] we have been preparing this afternoon, following consultation with the RCMP, a short paragraph to share with you to confirm that there are no significant concerns raised by missions to date. This will be provided this evening. Of course if the situation continues indefinitely, then we can expect more concerns to be raised in the future.

Best,

Yasemin
